

Windle Trust
International

Windle
International
Uganda
Education Transforms Society

The Postgraduate Programme

James Aryam Scholarships

Applications are currently open for residents of Sudan and South Sudan for scholarships to study in Uganda as part of our new James Aryam Scholarships Programme.

In collaboration with Windle International Somalia and Windle International Uganda, Windle Trust International are currently accepting applications from candidates for full scholarship including tuition fees, monthly maintenance stipend and relocation costs.

Scholarships are available for students wanting to study courses related to:

- Education
- Social Work
- Development Studies
- Public Health
- Nutrition
- Crop Science
- Animal Science
- Gender Studies
- Renewable Energy
- Climate Change

You will be advised on suitable universities and specific courses following your application.

What do you need to do?

- Complete and submit the application form available online at www.windle.org.uk
- If shortlisted for selection, attend an interview with our partners in your home country.
- If shortlisted for selection, you will be advised submit applications to universities when their application windows are open.

Application period

Application window: 9th January 2023 – 5th February 2023

Before submitting your applications, please read the eligibility criteria for Windle Trust International. Eligibility criteria are available for download from our website and are applied strictly and without exception.

We are committed to a policy of equal opportunity and non-discrimination and encourage applications from a diverse range of candidates specifically including women, refugees, minorities, candidates with a disability and candidates otherwise affected by conflict.

For questions and queries, email postgraduate@windle.org.uk

Applications can only be accepted through our online application portal at www.windle.org.uk